

ROAD PROJECT UPDATE

April 5, 2017

Today, the completed areas will be inspected by the engineer whom was contracted by the homeowner's association, as well as the Road Committee. Even though the project is progressing, some areas are a little behind schedule. As to be expected, the road work will proceed and will be completed appropriately.

Please be mindful when driving through the community! The Board of Directors was recently notified of a homeowner's vehicle speeding which caused tire ruts on the newly laid pavement. Unfortunately such negligence will need to be repaired at an additional cost to the association. Fortunately you can help prevent any of these damages and additional costs by driving the appropriate speeds, not turning the vehicle wheel when not in motion, parking on the roadway, etc.

Also, as you know, parking on the street is not permitted at any time. It is of the utmost importance to obey this rule this week as tire depressions will result. Again, such negligence will be repaired at an additional expense to the association.

Please spread the word and thank you for your consideration. As always, if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask: StarlightBoynton@gmail.com. Thank you.
